

Major Thanks

It is a pleasure to recommend Evgeny Belkov (bolkow.co), who collaborated with us from December 2024 to February 2026 on Russia CRM Localization Program. This program was a key part of Johnson & Johnson's global Business Continuity Planning (BCP) initiative.

Evgeny made significant contributions from the outset. His expertise in Technology Compliance and software development within pharmaceutical industry was instrumental in successfully kicking off our development and validation processes.

Throughout his one-year engagement, Evgeny provided exceptional support. He helped standardize our use of the Jira tool and demonstrated great effectiveness and efficiency in collaborating with teams, managing documents, navigating technology and compliance requirements. His effort was crucial in helping us achieve our targeted release milestones.

We are highly satisfied with this results-oriented collaboration and would be eager to work with Evgeny again. We are confident he will continue to be an asset in any endeavor requiring deep expertise in software development and regulatory compliance.
